Deputy's Name Released that Discharged Weapon During Physical Confrontation

Town of Salina, New York – The Onondaga County Sheriff's Office has released the name of the Deputy who fired a shot during a physical confrontation on Traister Drive last week.

At approximately 7:30pm last Thursday evening, Deputies responded to a call involving an emotionally disturbed person at 115 Traister Drive in the Town of Salina. Deputy Kristina Ormsby was the first officer on scene. Upon arrival she was physically attacked by Andrew Mannolini (28) and she fired a single shot in his direction, however did not strike him nor anyone else. Additional responding units arrived during the confrontation and were eventually able to subdue Mannolini. One other deputy suffered minor injuries that occurred while subduing Mannolini.

Andrew Mannolini was arrested for Assault in the 2nd degree, Resisting Arrest, and Obstructing Governmental Administration in the 2nd degree. Also arrested at the residence was Mark Mannolini (53) for Resisting Arrest, and Obstructing Governmental Administration in the 2nd degree.
