Correction Officer Charged with Harassment

Town of DeWitt, New York-The Onondaga County Sheriff's Office reports that a Correction Department Officer has been charged following an internally initiated investigation.

Senior Correction Officer Noel Abboud (44), of Syracuse, was charged this afternoon with aggravated harassment in the 2nd degree. Abboud is accused of sending several harassing messages to a contract employee of the Correction Department.

Abboud, who has been a Correction Officer with the Sheriff's Office for 19 years, will face disciplinary actions per New York State Civil Service procedure. He is scheduled to be arraigned this evening in Centralized Arraignment Court.
